He Together with Two Other Prisoners are Assisted to Escape from the Jail.

Sheriff Wade with a Posse of Men in Hot Pursuit.

Topeka is once more in an uproar. Sam Lappin is once more at liberty, and where he is no one is yet able to even conjecture. Last Monday evening Sheriff S. P. Wade, who has charge of the jail where Lappin was confined, having made preparations to take a short trip East, left the jailer in charge and went home. The jailer, as is his custom, saw that everything appeared safe, and at his usual hour, about eleven o'clock, also retired, and there being no night-guard at the jail, it was left comparatively unwatched. Yesterday morning when he went to onen, the calls to permit the prisoners the liberty of the corridors. he discovered that something was wrong. and upon investigation found three cells empty, and Samuel Lappin, together with two colored prisoners, missing, one of whom was the one who had assisted Lappin in a former attempt to escape, and had ben shackled the night before The other was awaiting trial on the charge of rape. Upon examining the doors it was found that several of the bars of each of those upon the cells occupied by the colored prisoners had been sawed off from the out-side, and that the shackles had been removed from Lappin's confederate by the same parties. The large bolts securing the sliding-bar on the door of Lappin's cell had been unscrewed, the common lock wrenched open, and the State's prisoner brought out. The west window, which looks out in the rear yard, was next examined, and it was found that three of the bars had een cut out, leaving an aperture ten by eighteen inches, and the marks of the cut-ting showed that the bars had been partially severed long before the escape, as over one half of the ends of the bars were rusted, while the remainder were bright, as
